

- Safety Note: Product Recall

Unfortunately, under highly increased production capacity a manufacturing defect has occurred in the supply chain in one batch number of Aramid Gloves h300. For safety reasons the batch concerned will be delisted. Investigation verified an increased level of chromium (VI). Chromium (VI) is contained in many everyday products: Leather items and colourants for textiles, but also in colours and coatings and wood preservatives. It is a frequently measured allergen. The allergic reaction may cause skin irritation, among others.

For that reason, we ask you to please no longer use and return the Aramid Pro 300 Gloves (Ref. h300) with the production date 01.08.2020 indicated on the label.

- If you purchased the product via the online shop www.petromax-shop.de or via www.pelam.de please contact our customer service via e-mail. Naturally, we will fully reimburse the purchase price after product return.
- If you purchased the product directly at our Magdeburg company location, you may also return it on site. Due to the requirements of the current pandemic please call beforehand to make an appointment.
- If you purchased the product at one of our retailer's please contact the retailer directly. The retailer is already informed about the recall. The product return takes place at the point of sale and is of course free of charge for you.

This applies to the above-mentioned batch only, in other batches of the h300 Aramid Gloves or other Aramid products no increased levels have been found.
